

Huntfield Heights

Fun day at Paringa View

A FAMILY Fun Day will be held this weekend to mark the first anniversary of the Paringa View development in Huntfield Heights.

More than 500 people are expected to attend the event, which has been organised by developer AVJennings.

Development projects General Manager Gary Page said he was very happy with sales so far.

"The response we have received from the southern community in relation to Paringa View has been exceptional." Mr Page said 65 per cent of the estate was sold in just over a year.

The Family Fun Day will be held at Paringa View on Saturday, May 27, from 11am until 3pm.

There will be a street-party atmosphere, with free face painting, clowns, a jumping castle and other fun activities on hand to entertain the children.

Special attractions on the day include the SAFM Black Thunder and a performance by the Hackham South Primary School Choir at 11.30am.

Just 48 allotments, including a range of house and land packages, now remain at Paringa View, with no new land releases scheduled until next year. Prices start at $73,000.
