

Outstanding start for land developer

CELEBRATING: A family fun day will be held for the Paringa View community today

RESIDENTIAL developer AVJennings has had a quick start to the year, selling more than 133 blocks in its four developments.

In the first five months, AVJennings has sold land at Springbank Waters, Burton, Paringa View, Huntfield Heights, The Point, Noarlunga Downs and Pathways, Murray Bridge.

“It has been an outstanding start to the year for AVJennings Developments,” development projects general manager Gary Page says.

“Efforts over the past year to bolster expertise of our land developments team by appointing key industry personnel have had a positive effect on our estates.”

To celebrate the sales success, in particular in Adelaide’s south, AVJennings will today host a family fun day for the Paringa View community.

More than 500 are expected to attend the street-party event.

“The response we have received from the southern community in relation to Paringa View has been exceptional and we want to thank them for their support,” Mr Page says.

“In just over a year, we have sold more than 65 per cent of the estate, which is a notable achievement, and have forged some strong partnerships with people in the local community.” Just 48 allotments, including a range of house and land packages, now remain at Paringa View, with no new land releases scheduled until next year.

Allotments range from 290sq m to 787sq m and are priced between $73,000 and $120,000.

Buyers who sign up on the day for one of the nominated blocks also can take advantage of a special offer for a rebate on their stamp duty and conveyance fees.

The family fun day will be held on the corner of Brentwood Drive and Perry Rd, Huntfield Heights, between 11am and 3pm.
